SPEAKING

Engagements

"Rachael tailored her message to our Devoted Conference theme and was both professional and personal in her delivery. Her use of Scripture mixed with her own real-life stories appealed to our intellect, our emotions, and our will, leaving us with a clear call to action. Rachael's love of Christ and others is apparent to everyone she encounters. She would be a great addition to any women's event."

~ Kelly Lester
Devoted Conference Host

"Rachael is a gifted communicator and a professional ministry partner. She added so much to the Enjoy God's Word Conference and her biblical message resonated with many conference attendees. I am grateful for her ministry!"

~ Katie Orr Founder of the Enjoy God's Word Conference

"The Called Conference had the pleasure of having Rachael share live episodes of The Love Offering, and they stole the show. Her attention to detail in finding questions that prompted her guests to show the love of Jesus Christ through their life and vulnerability struck a chord with everyone in the room. Her poise, biblical knowledge, and passion to see Christ glorified were both seen and felt. We were honored to have her and share in the experience of seeing God's love poured out through the lives of everyday women. We look forward to inviting her back every year."

"I'm grateful for Rachael's voice to women as she encourages them to pour out the love of Christ to those around them. She did a phenomenal job speaking at the Made for Mission Summit and our attendees walked away encouraged and spurred on to show the love of Christ in tangible ways."

~ Rebecca George
Made for Mission Summit Host

"Rachael speaks to the heart of every woman dealing with insecurities and feelings of inadequacy. As the host of the Pain into Purpose Summit, I was honored to share Rachael's story of turning her pain into purpose with Christ. I highly recommend Rachael for any speaking engagement to encourage other women that they are not alone in their inner struggles."

~ Andrea Bourgeois
Pain into Purpose Summit Host

"Rachael is a gifted communicator and has a passion for Christ and others that shines through in everything she does. I had the pleasure of having her as a speaker at The Faith in Action Conference and was so encouraged by the teaching she gave. I was blown away by her ability to encourage women and share the love of Christ with those around her. She has a way of weaving Scripture into her own life stories that encourages all who listen to her. I highly recommend Rachael for any speaking engagement or teaching opportunity."

ABOUT

Rachael

Rachael was born and raised in a small Kentucky lake town. After she married her college sweetheart, Bryan, she moved him there too. Together, they run a family business and live on a farm with their two children, Will and Kate, and two doodle dogs named Buster and Penny.

Rachael spends her days taking care of their farm and home. When she isn't doing something with or for her family, she loves to get together with friends, cook, take walks, and read Christian nonfiction.

Her writing and podcasting journey began when she was sitting in church and saw a love offering envelope in the pew in front of her. She sensed the whispering to her heart that we are his love offerings to the world. So Rachael began having conversations with women who were living faithfully and loving the world around them in practical and tangible ways.

Through the conversations she's had and through her own personal experience, Rachael discovered that many of us don't believe our contributions or offerings matter. It is Rachael's hope that this devotional and her ministry can change this narrative. She wants to encourage women to realize their God-given purpose and believe their lives are significant to His kingdom. Because in God's hands, small acts done with great love can have an enormous impact.

Topics

All topics can be adapted to keynote, retreat, breakout, or workshop messages and will be customized to your audience's needs. Any of the 52 devotions in her devotional can become a stand-alone talk.

A LITTLE GOES A LONG WAY

Watch God take your everyday actions and transform them for his eternal purposes.

In a culture where bigger is seen as better, it's easy to wonder if your quick prayer between errands or the short note you text a friend means anything in God's kingdom. Contrary to how you may feel, every little thing you do can go a long way in God's hands. Partnering with God unlocks the eternal significance of the smallest act. Rachael shares:

- personal stories of how God values each deed,
- practical actions for lasting impact, and
- encouraging prayers that reveal how much your contributions matter.

BEING A LOVE OFFERING

As the host of The Love Offering podcast, over five seasons Rachael has explored how to live out the command to love God and love people. Through her own experience and through her conversations with 250+ guests, she has learned how to practically live out her faith—living faithfully and loving fully. She hopes to show women how to first accept God's love, then offer his love out of the overflow.

MOTHERHOOD: A LITTLE GOES A LONG WAY IN MOTHERHOOD

Rachael is the mother of two middle-school-aged children. When she was a stay-at-home mom, she knew in her heart that being a mom was important work but the monotony and mundane nature of the role didn't always feel significant. Now the time she wished away is the time she wishes back. She can see in hindsight how all the little moments of motherhood shaped her children. Rachael shares lessons gleaned from biblical mothers to influence how we view and function as mothers today.

MARRIAGE: A LITTLE GOES A LONG WAY IN MARRIAGE

Rachael has been married to her husband for seventeen years. She shares about how little actions done consistently over time can go a long way in your marriage. Rachael explores Jesus' interaction with Peter in John 21 when Jesus asks, "Do you truly love me? Do you really love me? Are you even my friend?" Her hope is that we can respond immediately with an emphatic yes! Not just a yes with our words but a yes with our actions as well. A little love in word and deed goes a long way.

DO NOT DESPISE SMALL BEGINNINGS

We want our lives to count, but we feel minuscule, like our ordinary everyday moments will never amount to anything. We take stock of the families we were born into, the towns we grew up in, and the positions we serve in, then determine they are of little value. If we aren't careful, we can start to believe that who we are, where we are, and what we are doing doesn't really matter. Using Zechariah 4:10, Rachael teaches about the Jewish remnant who had similar thoughts after they returned to Judah to rebuild the temple and their nation. Through the prophet, they learned that bigger and more beautiful isn't always better. The presence of God on the inside of the temple was what made it significant. Rachael hopes to encourage women to be faithful in the small things, begin where they are, do what they can, and leave the results up to God.

SIGNIFICANCE

Using Ephesians 2:10 as her anchor verse, Rachael wants women to know they are God's workmanship created to do good works. Knowing that we are made in God's image and thus share many of His characteristics provides a solid basis for our self-worth. Rachael explains how to move past feeling insignificant and inadequate and how to stop questioning the value of who we are and what we do. She wants attendees to believe that because of God, they have inherent significance and everything they do for him is meaningful.

YOU ARE MORE THAN WHAT YOU ACCOMPLISH

Rachael understands what it's like to be an achiever and perfectionist by nature. On days she accomplishes a lot, she feels great satisfaction, but on days she accomplishes very little, she is greatly disappointed. Using examples from the creation story in Genesis as well as from Jesus' baptism, Rachael explains that while there is value in what we do, we cannot gain our value from what we do.

MAKING AN IMPACT

During Jesus' time on earth, he demonstrated the importance of "a little." He valued, noticed, served, and rewarded little things. Nothing was too insignificant for the Savior of the world. So, why do we regularly consider bigger to be better? Rachael gives biblical accounts of how God sees and values every little thing we do. She helps women believe that when they partner with God, he can use even the most minute things to affect eternity in ways beyond what they can imagine. Together, we can accomplish great things in our everyday moments by offering all we are and all we have to God.

ABOUT THE Book

A SIGNIFICANT LIFE IS MORE SIMPLE THEN YOU THINK

In a culture where bigger is seen as better, it's easy to wonder if your quick prayer between errands or the short note you text a friend means anything in God's kingdom.

Contrary to how you may feel, every little thing you do can go a long way in God's hands. Partnering with God unlocks the eternal significance of the smallest act. In fifty-two devotions, Rachael Adams exemplifies this empowering truth and shares:

- personal stories of how God values each deed,
- practical actions for lasting impact, and
- encouraging prayers that reveal how much your contributions matter.

Watch God take your everyday actions and transform them for his eternal purposes.

BOOK Endorsements

In A Little Goes a Long Way, we are continually reminded of God's love for us. Where we bring a little, he gives us everything. Rachael shows us beautifully that God uses every "little" thing we do and uses it for His Glory.

A Little Goes a Long Way is delightful, strong, and filled with insights from Scripture—just like its author, Rachael Adams! Rachael is an extraordinary young woman who has said, “Yes!” to Jesus and is committed to discipling others with her insight into the Bible. I was captivated by A Little Goes a Long Way and found myself unable to put it down. I realize that it is a devotional and meant to be read one day at a time but I just couldn’t do it! I spent hours just pouring over the stories, the rich perception, and the joy on each page. A Little Goes a Long Way is a God-idea and Rachael was just the one to write it! I was reminded although my life might seem little most days that God is at work making something magnificent out of my ordinary!
